BEN H. GREGORY

The above is a likeness of Ben H. Gregory, who as you all have seen through the columns of the Advocate is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of County Court Clerk of Knox County in the coming Primary August 4, 1917.

He is seeking this nomination upon his own merits and qualifications to perform the duties this office and the people demand. He has no ill will at any man and will have no mud to sling. The time has come when the voters should give each candidate the consideration necessary in order to elect a representative will meet all the requirements of a man, one that is clean, honest, sober and well qualified. Ben H. Gregory is one who will measure up to all these requirements and is meeting with approval of the voters throughout the county.

He comes before the people as a man who has done all kinds of labor in order to get an education. His educational qualifications will enable him to perform the duties of this office with credit. He is a son of James A. Gregory, who for a number of years taught school in different sections of this county. He was born and reared in this county where he has a large train of relatives and friends, who are going to rally loyally to his side in securing this nomination. Our acquaintance with this young man permits us to say that if the voters of Knox county elect him to the office of Clerk they will never have cause to regret it.

Ben says he is in this race to stay and that he is going to win. He is making an active campaign and reports have it that he will be a sure winner. He asks the voters to inquire after him, and investigate his claims and after they have done so and find him worthy of this office he earnestly solicits their support and promises in return to be at the office each day ready to serve the people and to make the best Clerk the county has ever had.

Barbourville to Have Wholesale House

It is understood that Mr Henry B. Clark, has purchased the new house now under construction by B. P. Walker near the L. & N. depot, and that it will be used as a wholesale grocery house. This is something that Barbourville has needed for a long time and we are glad they have come to the conclusion to put it in here. We are told that, the Company that is at the head of the concern is the old reliable Jellico Grocery Co., who has several branch houses about over the country.

Mr. Clark is a stockholder of the company and represents them in this territory. He is a real hustler and we predict that the business here will be a success.

There is only one kind of beef served now, it is rare, it is such a rare thing that anybody ever gets any.

High School News.

Last week showed a marked increase in attendance owing to the activity of our city truant officer. However, there are those who persist in remaining from school. Let us awake to the realization of our duty and insist on these children returning to school and thus avoid future Moonlight schools.

Taking Time By the Tail.

Science has moved up another peg. Not content with improving on the manifold performances of God Almighty, in the flesh and physical world, Science has taken a tip from the late William Shakespeare and officially decreed that the time's are out of joint. She proposes now to doctor the hours and push along the glad day when dawn will be but a matter of turning the clock hands. Hereafter, if Science has her way, all you've got to do to beat Joshua at his own game on Ajalon is to throw a few extra grains of birdseed to the cuckoo in the hall, and you have day and night whirling like whipt spaniels, at your feet.

According to the Associated Press, the National Daylight Saving Convention has just finished a two-days session in New York, where the scientific wisenheimers with more time on their hands than Money or brains, entertained the proposition to turn the clocks of United States one hour forward after midnight on the last Sunday of April and turn them back after midnight on the last Sunday of September.

"Delegates from all over the country were present," the glad tidings assured us, "including ten from the American Railway association, which fixes the time zones for train operations. Rep-

SAM K. HALE.

The above is a good likeness of Mr. Sam K. Hale, who comes before the people asking the Republican nomination and election to the office of Clerk of the Knox County Court.

Mr. Hale is 24 years old, was born and reared in this County, he attended Union College where he took a business course under the direct tutarship of Prof. W. E. McNeil; he has been entrusted with the responsibility of keeping the record and books of the largest business concerns in the country, such as the Carter Coal Co., the Consolidated Coal Co. and others.

Mr. Hale is an energetic young man, and a real hustler and has a long train of kinsmen in the county; and he enters this race at the solicitation of his many friends and kinsmen who are very anxious to see him win. He will make an aggressive campaign, saying no ill word about any of his opponents but relying upon his own merits to win this race. He will be around to see you and solicit your earnest support. If you entrust to his keeping the responsible position he seeks, you will find him at his post of duty each day in the week to attend to your business for you, and to treat you with that degree of courtesy to which you are entitled.

representatives were present from the chambers of commerce of Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, Rochester, Pittsburg and New York City. "Robert Brunet" - who ever the Sam Hill he is - told the convention, that, "based on facts and figures" the plan would save the citizens of the U. S. $10,000,000 a year.

"The results anticipated and already experienced abroad," Marcus M. Marks, president of the boro of Manhattan, and chairman of the New York Daylight Saving committee, told the convention "are economy through reduction of lighting bills, saving eyesight through the use of less artificial light and more daylight and health building through working one hour less in the cooler morning, and one hour less in the hot summer's afternoon."

There you are fellow citizens. Science has danced up to the rescue once again. Hereafter the man who denies the time-worn maxim "time is money," ought to be sentenced to time. If shoving the clock up an hour on a dark rainy April midnight will save the country $40,000,000, all Congress has to do is to wind up the national Seth Thomases and drag the hands across the face of the dial to the extent of the people's need, and there won't need be any more Democratic stamp taxes or bond issue. Instead of getting hydrophobia licking stamps, the new national peril will be watch-fob cramp. Instead of the threatened epidemic of citizens made hump-backed slobbering over deed books and other stamp-taxed

Be Loyal.

Our citizens are as patriotic as any in the United States. On today, at a mass meeting, held in the court house in this city, resolutions indorsing the action of President Wilson and the National Congress taken with reference to the war situation, were unanimously adopted.

No one wants war, but if it must come, let us present a solid front. Nothing encourages the enemy more than a divided rank with quarrelling, complaining and criticism among our own people.
It is not a question of war or no war, because that is already settled. Germany has been carrying on war against us for many months, destroying our property and killing our people. Shall we stand idly by and sniffer this to continue, or shall we, like true American citizens, raise our voices in protest? It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to lend his aid and support to the government in this hour of trial.
If need be, let us enlist in the service of our Country and follow the flag to victory. Since war has come, let us meet it like men.
Fight like our fathers in Revolutionary days and the siege will be short.

Every citizen in this town and county should have a United States Flag floating from his front gate or door every day. If you cannot afford a large flag get a small one. Let the Star Spangled Banner wave. It is the emblem of freedom, an insignia of our courage and bravery.

New Passenger Depot

One of the most urgent needs of this town and community is a new passenger depot, located at some convenient point to the city. The present L. & N. depot is altogether inadequate. It is old-style, unsightly and un-sanitary. It was built some twenty-eight or thirty years ago when this town was small and when the business of the railroad was in its infancy. Of course, additions have been built to it, but it is like all other buildings which have been patched up.

At the present we have a great many visitors coming into our city. Most of them are strangers, and the impression they get at the depot is not what it should be.

The L. & N. Railroad Company is one of the great corporations in this country. Its recent financial statement of its earnings for 1916, evidence an enormous increase in business as well as in net profits. Barbourville has never complained of the depot which it has, but at a recent meeting of the citizens of this town and community, resolutions were passed calling upon the officials of the company to take action. Copies of these resolutions have been sent to the officials and also to the Railroad Commission. This city is growing rapidly. It has a great future before it. Many new buildings are going up and many more in prospect. We feel that the railroad should keep pace, and to do so, it must erect a new passenger depot. The old depot would perhaps serve for a freight depot, but a handsome brick structure, properly located on the right-of-way of the railroad would add greatly to the prospective of the incoming traveler.

We Want You To Understand.

We have tried to make it as plain as daylight, that we are running this paper for what money we can get out of it, to help boost the city, and county, and state, and to try as best we can to advance the principles of the Republican party if we can do so without material injury to ourselves and family, and to give all the true news that we can obtain without hiring a regiment of secret service men to procure it for us.

We have said time and time again that any man can get advertising space in the columns of this paper so long as it is not obscene or scurrilous. We do not care how many comes at the same time we will try to attend to all as fast as they come. We want it further understood, that every line that appears in the columns of this paper concerning any MAN WHO IS A CANDIDATE FOR ANY OFFICE, is a paid advertisement. We are not here to sing the praise of any man, we have not made up our mind as yet who we are going to support.
The paper will not support any man except to represent all alike that may choose to let the people know something of themselves by letting us tell it for them. It has been said that we are taking sides, this is absolutely untrue, we are not taking sides, and if any man believes that we are let him walk up like a little man, lay down his manuscript and the brazen coin and we will say as much for you as we can afford to to under the facts and circumstances. But above all things remember, THAT WE ARE OUT OF POLITICS, we do not care who you are you are mistaken when you accuse us of taking sides. The Editor himself will vote in every race from Circuit Judge down to constable, and we don't deny this we are not going to say here who we are for, but if you want to know, and must know, come to our office, and we will tell you privately who we are for.

Special Service To The South.

The federal farm loan banks announce that they will lend money at five per cent, and that they will borrow the money they lend at four and a half per cent.
If the margin of one-half per cent is sufficient to pay the cost of the institution, well and good.
If not, well and good also; for the Federal Treasury will make up the deficit—just as the Treasury came to the scratch and subscribed the stock in the various branch banks which was not taken by the public. The farm loan banks are expected to render special service in the South, yet the South was no more eager than other sections to invest money in these stocks. Less so, in point of fact; for the poorest response made anywhere to the public offering of the farm loan stocks was in the district which comprises the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida, where just $410 of the required $750,000 of capital was subscribed by the people of this district.

Huge Meat Exports.

Ten products of the meat-packing industry now leave our shores every month their bulk aggregating over 150,000,000 pounds.
They are beef, fresh, pickled, and canned, oleo oil, hams and shoulders, lards and compounds, and pickled pork. The total weight of these products exported by us during the first eight months of the current fiscal year ended February 28, was 1,217, 000,000 pound, and that was some 37,000,000 pounds less than we exported during the first eight months of the fiscal year 1916.
But their aggregate value for the eight months of 1917 was $189, 286,000, compared with $154, 580 000 for the 1916 period. This is interesting as a reminder that ours continues to be a war order prosperity.

Some War-Order Facts

Here is an instance of what war orders have done for the United States. During the 15 years period, 1900-14, inclusive, our total exports to Russia (European and Asiatic) fell short $500,000,000.
During the two calendar years of the war, 1915 and 1916, our total exports to Russia were $638, 808,000. These are our own figures. Russian figures of imports from the United States are greater than ours due to the fact that some goods leaving here for Russia go overland and are credited to the country over which they pass in transit to Russia.
But even our figures are "vocal".

RAILROAD SITUATION IS NOW LARGELY UP TO CONGRESS

Must Share Responsibility In Future Development.

ROBERT S. LOVETT'S VIEWS

"Unification of Regulation Is Essential." A Complete, Harmonious, Consistent and Related System Needed—Federal Incorporation of Railroads by General Law Favored.

Washington, March 26.—Responsibility for the railway development of the country, for providing necessary transportation facilities to care for the growing business and population of the country, now rests largely with congress and not entirely with the railroad managers. This was the statement of Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific system, to the Newlands joint congressional committee when that body resumed its inquiry into the subject of railroad regulation this week.

In making this statement of the changed conditions of the railroad situation Judge Lovett undoubtedly had in mind the decision of the supreme court on the Adamson law, handed down last week, which establishes the right of the federal government to fix railroad wages and to prevent strikes.
This decision is regarded by railroad men and lawyers as marking an epoch in the development of transportation in the United States.

"We have our share of responsibility," said Judge Lovett, "but it rests primarily on congress. When the government regulates the rates and the financial administration of the railroads, the borrowing of money and the issuance of securities it relieves the railroad officers of the responsibility of providing and developing transportation systems, except within the limits of the revenue that can be realized from such rates and under such restrictions.
"For a country such as ours, for a people situated as we are, to blunder along with a series of unrelated, inconsistent, conflicting statutes enacted by different states without relation to each other, instead of providing a complete and carefully studied and prepared system of regulation for a business that is so vital to the life of the nation, is worse than folly."

He summed up the present problems and difficulties of the railroads as follows:

First.—The multiplicity of regulations by the several states with respect to the issue of securities, involving delays and conflicting state policies generally dangerous and possibly disastrous.

Second.—The state regulation of rates in such a manner as to unduly reduce revenues, to discriminate in favor of localities and shippers within its own borders as against localities and shippers in other states and to disturb and disarrange the structure of interstate rates.

Third.—The inability of the Interstate Commerce Commission, whoever the commissioners may be, to perform the vast duties devolving upon it under existing laws, resulting in delay—which should never occur in commercial matters—and compelling the commissioners to accept the conclusions of their employees as final in deciding matters of great importance to the commercial and railroad interests of the country.

Fourth.—The practical legality that has been accorded conspiracies to tie up and suspend the operation of the railroads of the country by strikes and violence and the absence of any law to compel the settlement of such disputes by arbitration or other judicial means, as all other issues between citizens in civilized states are to be settled.

Fifth.—The phenomenal increase in the taxation of railroads in recent years.

Sixth.—The cumulative effect of these conditions upon the investing public, to which railroad companies must look for the capital necessary to continue development.

"We believe that the unification of regulation is essential," said Judge Lovett, "and that with the rapid increase of state commissions in recent years congress will in time be compelled to exercise its power in the premises. To unify regulation there should be a complete, harmonious, consistent and related system. We believe the best, if not the only practical plan, is the federal incorporation of railroads by general law, which will make incorporation thereunder compulsory, thus imposing on all railroad companies throughout the United States the same corporate powers and restrictions with respect to their financial operations and the same duties and obligations to the public and the government, so that every investor will know precisely what every railroad corporation may and may not lawfully do."

Judge Lovett contended that the solution of these problems and difficulties rested with congress. He told the committee that under the constitution the authority of the federal government is paramount, that congress has the power to legislate for a centralized control of railroads under federal charters and that it only remains for that body to exercise

Everybody get together! a long strong pull for Frank Mitchell for Jailer. He is going to get there.

I'll tune up my fiddle and rosin my bow, play Lawson got drowned wherever I go, but not Captain The Lawson that got drowned was not running for Sheriff.

Who will win for all the offices to be elected this year? We don't know exactly, we don't know yet who is going to make the hardest fight, but it will be some fight.

Mrs. Langdon, whose son died while a teacher here at Union College, after remaining here since the death of her son, left Wednesday for her home in Illinois.

The Board of Education of the Methodist Church are holding a business meeting at Union College this week, they will hire the teachers for the coming year, and do their routine business.

Judge Sampson, R. W. Cole and others went to Manchester last Wednesday to look over the coal fields. There is no question but that there will be something doing in that neck of the woods right soon.

Mr. F. F. Rowland, of Fount was here last Saturday, he is the postmaster at Fount which was changed from Hopper to Fount since the new railroad has been built.

Another candidate has "busted loose" for County Court Clerk. It looks like the more they come, the more they come. Well, it is alright, some one is going to win, some dozen or more will wish they had not run.

Wilson Lawson, who is running for Jailer, is having 4000 song books printed and is going to give one to every voter in the county. Maybe, if he happens to be defeated he will at least learn some people how to sing.

There is quite an excitement over in the County of Clay over the new developments in the coal and salt fields, it is said that the manufacture of salt will start right away, and that there are real men now forming companies to remove coal from that county.

Mr. Joe Smith in trying to catch a moving train last Saturday, was thrown to the ground, striking some part of the cars or ties, and was painfully cut about the head and face, he was reported as being seriously hurt at the time, but such was not the case.

The Fiscal Court let the contract for the laying of the Macadam from the Bell county line to the Laurel county line near Corbin last Tuesday, they also let the laying of the Macadam from the river bridge three miles down the Cumberland river road at the same time.

Who is this fellow John H. Lawson? Well, he is that fellow that was raised up here on Brush Creek and came to town about seven or eight years ago, bought a home, helped keep the Baptist Institute from being sold, built the Lawson Building and gave the Masons the third floor for a home. Well, is that all he has done? No, he has helped every man that was in need as far as his means would permit and has done something for every man that asked him for some kind turn.

ALL W

Does morning sickness with a lumb, stiff and achy back? Are you tired all the time and work a burden? Have you suspected your kidneys? Barbourville people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on their statements.

Mrs. J. T. Beddow, N. Main St., Barbourville, says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills from experience. My kidneys were weak and I suffered from nervous, dizzy headaches. I felt run down and languid and the least work tired me out. The action of my kidneys was irregular, too and I knew that they were at fault. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills from the Costello Drug Co. and used them as directed. They helped me in every way, strengthening my kidneys and relieving the dizzy spells and headaches."

Col. Dickinson, the wealthiest man in the state of West Virginia is here looking over the coal and salt fields. He is a manufacturer of salt from the wells in W. Thomas Gordon, Judge of the Common Pleas Division of the Courts of Jefferson county and Louisville, is here this week and is now on a deal for some good coal lands, where it is said a large operation will be put in by the company Judge Gordon and others are now forming. The mines will be in Clay county, but be that as it may it is of interest to all to know that this end of the state is still growing.

Why Constipation Injures.

The bowels are the natural sewerage system of the body. When they become obstructed by constipation a part of the poisonous matter which they should carry off is absorbed into the system, making you feel dull and stupid, and interfering with the digestion and assimilation of food. This condition is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Obtainable everywhere.

In The Oil Field.

E. B. Irvin is moving his drilling outfit to Indian Creek today he will begin within one mile of the Campbell farm, he contemplates having one well completed within three weeks.

Frank Dematris, who is manager of the Kentucky Oil and Gas Co. will begin drilling on the Lee Gray farm today, he has one well down 1000 feet on Callebs Creek where it is a gamble that he gets what he is after.

The Central Oil Co. will begin on the Hutchins farm next Monday the 9th, they have two holes there that are already producing that they wish to pump.

The Ohio Oil Co. is moving on the G. M. Jackson farm near Cannon, where they will start operation next next.

Mr. Hoskins has four rigs at the Depot, and one more on the road, he will set one of these up on the Sampson property near the C. & M. R. R. Depot, where it is hoped that a gusher will reward his labors, the others will be put to work as soon as the roads settle so that they can be moved to the locations.

Safe Medicine for Children.

"Is it safe?" is the first question to be considered when buying cough medicine for children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has long been a favorite with mothers of young children as it contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. It is pleasant to take, too, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. This remedy is most effective in relieving coughs, colds and croup. Obtainable everywhere.

and Stewart will begin the operation at once on the farm now owned by the Evans Brothers, known as the Brogans farm, near Baileys Switch.

J. A. McDermott, shipped one machine to Clay county, he will begin his operations at Oneida, he will also do a lot of drilling in Knox county.

The Edmonson Co. is rigging up on No. 2 on the Pursifull farm near Himvar, they have drilled in one which it is said is good for ten barrels or more daily.

The EsMoraldo Co. that is drilling on Indian Creek have started on their No 2 well, and are down about 200 feet it is thought that they will bring in another the coming week.

There are seventeen rigs now in and around Barbourville, and every man is pressing to get his work done. It is a foregone conclusion that the fields in Knox county will be fully tested before the middle of the summer. Let all hope that every man will find a gusher, at least let us hope he will get a 100 barrel well.

Insomnia.

Indigestion nearly always disturbs the sleep more or less, and is often the cause of insomnia. Eat a light supper with little if any meat, and no milk; also take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper, and see if you do not rest much better. Obtainable everywhere.

South Carolina Falls In Line.

Kentucky started a bigger thing than she knew when she started the campaign against illiteracy. The South Carolina Legislature has just created an Illiteracy Commission to stamp out illiteracy from that state. First, tried moonlight schools out in a few counties and found they could wipe out illiteracy. Now, they are going at it in earnest.

Grins and Groans.

It is not so fashionable now as it once was for the women to go off and have operations.

We have a notion, that there are a lot of people around Barbourville, that wear a kind of religious cloak that will not need any kind of a covering after they shuffle off this mortal coil, it will be warm enough for them without any kind of a covering.

We have read in the Bible that the "Lord commanded men and women to marry and to multiply tie earth like the sands of the Sea" now we wonder what is the matter in so many rich religious homes that there are no children.

We know of a lot of old gossiping women around town that ought to be sent to the quarantine stock yards and kept there until they are rid of the foot and mouth disease.

Appendicitis is an all around up to date disease among the people who have enough money to pay $150.00 for an operation, to the fellow who hasent got that much it is the old time pain in the side that gets well anyway.

Mr. Amis our genial and accomodating Postmaster had to tell Al Simms the other day that he could not accept unwashed socks as any kind of class mail.

An acrobat came to town the other day and gave a free entertainment, John Henry Lawson said that the man was sure broke as not one cent fell out of his pockets while he was standing on his head.

Andrew Mithcell has a mu'e that has a real sore heel, he kicked Andrew the other night, striking a bone and has been laid up ever since.

There are two things that a man never fails to stop and look at, that is the election returns and a women in short skirts.

documents, we may expect a nation of citizens with one arm several feet longer than the other made so by reaching for the old clock in an hour of financial stringency.

What blasts our slats is why science limits the change to a single hour. With so much to learn of the past and so much we'd like to fathom in the dim and hazy mists that overhang the distant times to be, why not elongate this latest discovery until all the traditional uncertainties of the ages gone when there was no printing press to snatch history from oblivion, might be brought to light? Why not drop back a few thousand years and settle that long disputed question as to when Johanna VIII spoiled her chances for Apostolic Succession by giving birth to a boy brat while seated on the Throne of Peter? Why not solve the dial a little further skewward and take a retrospective sail back into the early Apostolic days and ascertain at what hotel Peter registered when he entered Rome? History is sadly silent on the fact, you know, beloved. And when tired of diving into the dismal past let us throw time in reverse gear and dash along a few hundred years over futurity's national highway and behold America when Rome has "made America Catholic." Time alone can reveal whether the passageway between the Pope's headquarters at Cardinal Gibbons' bachelor apartment at Baltimore will then as now be worn smooth by the ever-increasing pussy-foot brigades bearing orders from Gibbons to O'Hearn and O'Hearn to Wilson via Joseph P. Timulty.

We fear Science has not fully appreciated her latest discovery. By all means, let's help Science push along the hand of fate.

Manufacturers Not Represented.

President Wilson, after taking seven months to study the list of possible appointees for the Tariff Commission, has named six men not one of whom ever produced a dollar's worth of manufactured commodities. And this President Wilson would pass off upon the American people as a competent tariff commission representative of all the interest of the United States.

An Able Republican.

Washington, Apr. 4.—(Special Correspondence)—Perhaps no new Senator will have a better understanding of the work he will be called upon to do in connection with his committee assignments than Hon. Howard Sutherland of West Virginia. Some years ago Mr. Sutherland served for a considerable time in the Census Bureau, and became Chief of the Population Division immediately following the taking of the decennial census. His experience in that work especially fits him for the place on the Census Committee which he was given. The Committee on Mines and Mining also includes Senator Sutherland among its members. In private life the Senator deals extensively in coal lands, and when legislation relating to that subject is before the committee they will receive the benefit of the Senator's knowledge of that branch of mining, which has been received at first hand.

Frankfort Chaplain Tells of Two Months' Trial.

"FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN"

There may be someone in Frankfort better known than W. F. S. Brawner, Past Grand Chaplain of the I. O. O. F., Kentucky jurisdiction, but it is safe to say that Mr. Brawner counts his friends by the thousands.

For fifty-five years a prominent member of the Baptist church, he is at present chaplain of Lodge No. 28, I. O. O. F., of which he has been a member for forty years.

W. F. S. BRAWNER.

"I was weak, run down and nervous following a spell of bad health," said Mr. Brawner. "I had pains through my chest at times that caused me a lot of trouble."

"Nervousness set in, and I couldn't sleep well at night. The least little noise would wake me up, and that meant I would lie awake the rest of the night."

"I got so I couldn't enjoy a meal. Food that used to make me almost eat my head off didn't tempt me. The 'boys' at the lodge asked what was the matter with me."

"Well, I couldn't tell exactly. I was just half-sick and all-in. My brother-in-law got me to try Tanlac. I didn't have much faith in it, but I consented to try it."

"Well, sir, it's remarkable what Tanlac has done for me. I've been taking it for about seven or eight weeks and I feel fine. When I sit down to the table you can be pretty sure that I'm going to eat everything that is put in front of me."

"I sleep sound every night, and my sleep rests me. I really can't say enough for Tanlac."

"If you don't feel right yet Tanlac today. Delay in health matters is dangerous."

Tanlac, the master medicine and reconstructive tonic, is sold exclusively in Barbourville by Herndon Drug Co.

Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows:

AS PRICES RISE HIGH COST OF LIVING HITS THE RAILROADS

Service Will Be Gripped Unless Relief Comes Soon.

EXPENSES UP, RATES DOWN

Wasteful and Conflicting Regulations Hinder Railroad Credit, While Advance in Labor and Materials Outstrips Revenue, Chairman Kruttschnitt Tells Congress Committee. Unified Federal Control Will Improve Conditions.

Washington, April 2.—The condition in which the railroads find themselves as a result of constant increases in wages, prices of material, taxes and other expenses, while their revenues are restricted by legislation, was strikingly described by Julius Kruttschnitt, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Southern Pacific Company, in his testimony during the past few days before the Joint Congressional Committee on Interstate Commerce, which is making a study of the question of railroad regulation. Mr. Kruttschnitt urged the committee to recommend a plan of regulation which will center responsibility for regulation and its results in the federal government, so that conditions affecting both expenses and revenues may be made subject to a uniform policy instead of the wasteful and often conflicting policies involved in the system of combined state and federal regulation.

Why Roads Need More Money.

Mr. Kruttschnitt's testimony also had a bearing on the reasons for the application of the roads to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a general advance in freight rates. He showed that while the price of transportation has declined in recent years, the cost of producing transportation, like the cost of almost everything else, has rapidly advanced. This he illustrated by showing that if freight and passenger rates had increased during the past twenty years in the same proportion as average commodity prices the railroads of the United States would have received $1,634,000,000 more for transportation in 1915 than they did receive.

This saving to the public was effected, in spite of an increase of 33 per cent in the cost of operation of trains, by a reduction in the average passenger rate per mile from 2.04 cents in 1895 to 1.38 cents in 1915, a decrease of 32 per cent, and by a reduction in the average freight rate per ton mile from 8.39 mills in 1895 to 7.3 mills in 1915, or 13 per cent. During the same period the cost of operation per train mile rose from 92 cents to $1.78, almost doubling. At the same time the average price of 346 commodities enumerated in a bulletin of the Department of Agriculture increased 115 per cent. Transportation is practically the only commodity in general use that has not increased tremendously in price during the past twenty years, freight and passenger charges being lower than they were twenty years ago.

Big Saving to Public.

If rates had risen proportionately to the increase in the cost of other articles of ordinary use, Mr. Kruttschnitt told the committee, the average passenger rate in 1915 would have been 2.95 cents a mile, or 50 per cent higher than it was, and the average freight rate would have been 1.21 cents, or 66 per cent higher than it was. The saving to the public in passenger fares through this difference was $314,000,000 and in freight rates $1,319,000,000. Universal railroad bankruptcy under this reduction in rates and increased cost of operation, he said, was avoided only by heavy expenditures to obtain increased efficiency in train movement, making it possible to haul more tons of freight per locomotive. This had reduced the average cost of hauling a ton of freight, but the decline in the average freight rate had reduced the net revenue of the roads from each ton hauled. If the operating costs of the railroads, including the prices of coal, labor and material, continue to advance at the present rate a lot of railroads will be in the hands of receivers by 1918 unless some relief is afforded. Mr. Kruttschnitt told the committee.

"Owing to the rise of commodity prices," he said, "the purchasing power of the dollar has fallen 55 per cent and the railroads are in the position of being compelled by law to accept payment for their service to the public in currency worth 45 cents on the dollar."

Public's Chief Interest.

"The public's greatest interest is in adequate transportation facilities and not so much in low rates. As to most commodities freight rates form a very small proportion of their cost. Excluding low grade commodities, the percentage of the freight rate to the cost is so slight as to offer no justification for any substantial increase in prices to the consumer. It may be stated with little fear of contradiction that the consumer seldom, if ever, profits from a lowering of freight rates. "Extortionate charges are a thing of the past, and under the attempt to cut rates to their lowest possible figure the interest of the whole public in the character and standard of transportation is subordinated to the interest of that part of the public only that profits by lower rates—that is to say, the shippers and their agents and not the general public, the ultimate consumer."

After Election Talk.

The navy is short some 14,000 men. Secretary Daniels admits it and he has asked the newspapers to take a hand in speeding up recruiting. Last fall, making speeches down in Maine and writing letters and giving out interviews, Mr. Daniels was most vigorous in denouncing Congressman Gardner for having asserted that the navy personnel was several thousands short of its complement, and prior to that the President himself had told Congress that the administration had not been neglectful of the national defence. Under the stress of warlike conditions the truth is coming to light. It comes too late to make sure that Daniels and the others who have deceived the country will be punished, because the election apparently settled it that Daniels gets his four years more along with Wilson. But the next time this administration is put upon the defensive before the electorate there will be plenty of evidence of its incapacity and its deceptiveness.
